SCAMORAMA

Turning The Tables On Email Scammers

A new book from the owner of the leading scambaiting website scamorama.com

Lagos, Nigeria.

Dear Sir/Madam:

Having consulted with my colleagues and based on the information gathered from the Nigerian Chambers Of Commerce And Industry, I have the privilege to offer you this great new book, SCAMORAMA. I request your assistance to make this book known to the public. If you can do this, I will transfer the sum of $47,500,000.00 (forty seven million, five hundred thousand United States dollars) into your accounts.

Everyone has no doubt received these “419” emails in their in-box; most of us immediately delete or trash them. However, groups of people around the world have taken it a step further and turned the tables on the scammers, leading them on with their own nonsense, strictly to waste the scammers’ time—a practice known as scambaiting.

This psychological warfare for clowns is being waged on the internet between criminals and comedians. On one side are fraudsters, usually from Nigeria, who con their victims out of hundreds of millions of dollars each year, and on the other side are pranksters from around the world writing them back merely to yank their chains.

This book documents a weird form of cultural exchange made possible by the internet. It is a hilarious introduction to the “419” scam, with serious information about the scam and correspondences between the scammers and the people who mess with them—liars telling lies with compound interest to other liars.

Learn all about the “419” scam—how it started, how it’s done, who’s behind it and what can be done to fight it. The book also provides tips on how ordinary people can join in on the fun and bait these scammers.

We are now ready to transfer the book and that is where you come in. The transfer is risk free on both sides. If you would like a copy of this book or the opportunity to interview the author, Eve Edelson, please contact Liz Lawler at 212/342-7397 or email books@disinfo.com.

Please reply urgently.

Best regards

Howgul Abul Arhu
